Athletic Plant His Dream

DR. ALEXANDER C. ROBERTS

Stadium Work Moves Toward Early Finish

"San Francisco State's new football field will be ready for the opening of the 1936 season." Leo C. Nee, financial secretary of the college, issued that statement yesterday after checking recent work on the embryo athletic plant located at Fifteenth and Valencia streets, former site of Recreation Park.

The grading of the field was completed last Wednesday and the water lines were laid Saturday. Planting of the grass will be finished by the end of this week. This will give the turf nearly three months to mature before the gridiron season opens on September 26.

Mr. Nee contacted George B. McDougall, state architect, shortly after school was out and he approved plans for completing the work necessary to put the field in first class condition. Mr. Z. J. Montgomery, senior engineer of the state division of architecture, was in charge of the project.

The fence enclosing the property was completed several weeks ago by student workers, and bleachers will be started at the end of summer session.

Sociology Discussed In Lecture by Professor

"Social Change as It Affects Social Work" will be the topic of an address to be delivered by Mrs. Bertha Monroe, professor of sociology, before the Social Workers' Association at its weekly luncheon on July 1 at 1667 Webster street.

Co-op Store, Book Shop To Have New Heads

San Francisco State co-operative store and cafeteria are now under new and separate management, according to Mr. Leo Nee, financial secretary of the college. This rearrangement became effective at the beginning of the Summer Session, as a result of the resignation of Mr. Percy Marples, former manager of both facilities, on May 31.

Mrs. Julia Nattenger of the Oakland schools cafeteria department, will take care of the college cafeteria. The manager for the co-op has not as yet been definitely chosen. Dick Davis, a former Stater, is handling the job temporarily.

Before Mrs. Nattenger starts on her new job in the fall, Mrs. Cora Duncan, cafeteria manager of the Alameda High School for several years, is temporarily taking charge of the cafeteria during the Summer Session only.

Mrs. Duncan states that while she is here new equipment will be installed where it will be needed; new system will be tried also if necessary.

POETRY CONTEST OFFERS BIG PRIZE

"Why I Should See New York," subject for an essay contest, and a contest for the best original poetic drama, the latter sponsored by Maxwell Anderson, are now open to aspiring authors. Considerable prizes, one of $100, are being offered the winners. Details may be found on the bulletin board of the English department.

Enrollment Reaches Peak With 979 Total

State's Music Groups Stage Fest Tomorrow

State's Music Federation opens house today to all members of the student body and faculty in an informal program enriched by musical games, community singing and old-fashioned dances. Annex "B" has been selected as the scene and the time is 3:30.

Mrs. Mary W. McCauley of the music department is the faculty sponsor and the general chairman is Marion Curry. Arrangements have also been made for refreshments. Committee heads stressed the fact that the affair was to be strictly an informal get-together where both students and faculty might become acquainted. Care has been taken to carry out this idea in all sections of the program.

Mrs. McCauley will lead the community singing and the musical games. Mrs. Elizabeth Farmer, faculty sponsor of social affairs, will manage the old-fashioned dances.

Final Count Will Show Advance Over Previous Years Is Belief

With 979 students registered at the end of the first week, the college stands well on its way to smashing previous summer attendance records. Of this total 797 students are coming for the complete six-week session and 180 are signed up for the first three-week period. San Francisco State has for several years maintained the position of having the largest registration for summer school in the California state college field.

It has not been definitely calculated as yet, what percentage of the enrollment are regular students of the college as against those who are seeking additional units, credentials and courses; however, the Registrar's office reports that there are representatives from practically every county in California as well as those who have come from outside states.

According to Miss Vance, the registration procedure was carried out practically without a hitch. The credit for the management of this may be largely laid to the Summer Session committee, which is acting under the leadership of Renee Priester, student chairman. This committee has functioned for the past week in informative capacity.

Metal Craft Today Will Be Subject Of Art Lecture Thursday by Dixon

Harry Dixon, instructor of the Art Student's League on Geary Street and outstanding metal craftsman, will be guest speaker for the History and Appreciation of Art Class tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The lecture will be held in Room 7 of Annex A and will be open to the public.

Metal Craft Today will be the subject of Mr. Dixon's lecture. Making art objects in metal for the home, the use of jewelry today and also in the past, and the difference between unusual and ordinary metal craft will be among the many phases of the topic which will be commented upon by Mr. Dixon.

As a preliminary feature to the lecture samples of metal work done by Mr. Dixon, at present in many of the large department stores, and work of some of his students are now on display in Room 7 of Annex A. These and other illustrations will also be used during the lecture.

Following his lecture Mr. Dixon will answer any questions from the audience, especially questions relating to the teaching aspect of the craft, as he is interested in that field.

This lecture is the first of a series which Mr. Walter Murray has arranged for his History and Appreciation of Art Class. The lectures are open to the public.

The second will be given on Thursday morning, July 9. Mr. R. D. Carpenter, Jr., of I. Magnin's, will speak on the subject, Modern Gowning. The lecture is scheduled at 10 o'clock in Room 7 of Annex A.

Mr. Carpenter will discuss style, line, color, and texture as found in the less expensive type of gown. He will show how the individual with an average income may be classed as a smartly gowned woman; he will show that style is not necessarily a matter of money, but rather one of understanding the selection and proportion of color and line. Mr. Carpenter plans to illustrate his talk with models wearing the gowns.

Puppet Actors Will Perform At Later Session

"As a general rule students of dramatics who have been teaching get more out of Summer Session than those who have not," said Miss Jessie D. Casebolt at an interview yesterday. Enlarging upon the above statement, Miss Casebolt pointed out that the experienced teacher knew more definitely what she wanted in the way of training.

Miss Casebolt's classes are working on an intensive program of demonstrations and preparation. There is a class in puppetry which is working on the preparation of the tiny characters and the dramatization of stories involving them during the first three weeks of the session. The last three weeks will be devoted to the presentation of the same plays. Each student of the 28 in the class will have to participate in at least three plays. Puppet characters will cover a wide range of fields from biblical to economic.

There is also a class in play discussion and criticism at 1 o'clock. The objective of the course is to sharpen critical ability as far as plays are concerned and to help teachers dramatize stories for future presentation in the fall.

English 3D is a class in the Fundamentals of Drama which incorporates the making up of monologues, dialogues and plays. Each student here is strictly on his own as far as originality goes, Miss Casebolt said.

Courses covering the principles and technique of adult education given by George C. Mann, State chief of adult education, began at U. C. at Berkeley June 29.

Approximately 6000 members are expected to attend the 78th annual convention of the American Dental Association to be held in San Francisco ending July 3.

Katherine Cornell opens in Shaw's Saint Joan at the Curran Theater July 6. Interesting paintings of costumes to be used in this production are now on exhibit at the S. F. Public Library.

Seventeen actors of the Federal Theater Project present four one-act plays, The Purple Door Knob by Walter Pritchard Easton, The House of Juke by Valentine Davies, A Happy Journey to Trenton and Camden by Thornton Wilder and Minnie Fields by Ellsworth P. Conkle, beginning Monday, June 29, at 960 Bush street.

Chalk Dust, another Federal Theater Project production, is now in its third week at the Columbia Theater.

Three Men on a Horse opens at the Alcazar Sunday, June 28.

International Club Arranges Chinatown Trip

Both faculty members and students interested in Chinese life and customs will have an excellent chance to study them first hand when the International Relations Club of the college sponsors its tour of San Francisco's Chinatown on Friday, July 10. The tour is sponsored by the International group to enable all who desire to do so to really see the settlement, according to statements made by committee members.

A diverse and interesting program has been arranged beginning with a dinner at the "Lotus Bowl," a unique new restaurant on Grant avenue, at 6:30 in the evening. Following the dinner a tour of the Chinese settlement will be made under expert guidance. Authentic Chinese music and dancing has been promised as a feature, along with informative talks on Chinese customs and the Chinese Theater. Later the high spots of interest will be visited. A Chinese temple, a Chinese telephone exchange and a stop at the Chinese "Six" companies are on the list.

Attractive programs and tricky souvenirs are planned for all who attend. Tickets at the price of 75 cents can be obtained at the information desk in the main corridor of College Hall.

On the evening previous to the homecoming, the San Francisco chapter of the Alumni Association will give a dinner at Ripley's. Miss Alice McBride is chairman of the affair, and she has announced that it will start at 5:30. The price is 60 cents per person.

The dinner will be followed by a trip through Chinatown, according to Malvina Cohn, president of the chapter.

The officers of the San Francisco chapter are as follows. Malvina Cohn, president: Mabel Delavan, vice-president: Coy Lucille Cullen, secretary: Mrs. Katherine Young, treasurer: Charlotte Morton, membership chairman: Amelia Marks, publicity chairman.

Frederic Burk Exhibit

Art exhibit, showing work done by Frederic Burk pupils during the Fall Semester, is now open to all those attending Summer Session, in Room 104. The exhibit was collected and arranged by Miss Susan Benteen. Art Supervisor of Frederic Burk, aided by her assistant, Sylvia Keller.

Dr. Barney Gives Unique Series

B. S. s191, "Science in Many Lands," given by Dr. Edna Locke Barney, professor of biological science at San Francisco State College, is proving to be one of the most popular courses on the campus during this Summer Session if the enrollment is any indication. The enrollment at the present time is approximately 70.

The course is to be made up of unit lessons dealing with personalities and scientific contributions of various countries. These unit lessons are interwoven with lectures by prominent men and women in many fields of work and from a great variety of countries. Guest speakers in the course thus far have been Dr. Johnson of the Stanford University Hospital who spoke on "Child Problems," and Miss Kinara, resident secretary of the International House in Berkeley, who gave a talk on the work carried on by the International Houses in the United States.

During coming weeks lectures will be given on Ireland, Germany, China and other foreign countries.

Death Summons F. H. Williamson

Death made an unexpected visit to State College one week ago Tuesday when Franklin H. Williamson, popular janitor and well known figure on the campus, passed away very suddenly at his home on Haight street. His sister, who resides in Lincoln, California, was at the bedside. Mr. Williamson was taken ill on the Saturday preceding his demise and it was thought at the time that the sickness was not serious. He telephoned Mr. Perry Beale, superintendent of the college, on Monday, stating that he expected to return to work Tuesday. However, at 6 o'clock the next day a sudden bad spell compelled his sister, who had been sent for when he was taken sick, to make a hurried call for the doctor. He died before the physician could reach him.

Mr. Williamson was universally well liked by all State students and faculty members. His never failing courtesy and qualities of accommodation won for him a position of admiration and respect among the people of the college. With the exception of two years he had held his position for twenty years continuously since 1916 when he came to the school. His age was given as 65.

The funeral was held at the Suhr undertaking parlors on Thursday afternoon at 1:30. His interment will be in Oakland.

Use Information Desk

According to Virginia Gildea, chairman of the information committee, students have been scheduled to take charge of the information desk in front of the Registrar's office throughout the six-week session from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Miss Gildea urges that anyone who is having any difficulty avail himself of the chance for facts.

Former Gaters Participate For Olympic Honors

San Francisco State track and field enthusiasts scanned the results of the Olympic Games tryouts held last Friday and Saturday with mingling joy and sorrow. Ray Allee, former Gater star, headed the list of semi-final qualifiers in the shot put at Los Angeles with a heave of 50 feet, 6½ inches, and Runar Stone finished fifth in the finals for the decathlon at Milwaukee.

Allee, who is competing for the Olympic Club, has been tossing the iron ball near the 51-foot mark all season and has a fair chance to represent the United States as one of the three shot putters. The final trials will be held in New York July 10 and 11.

The State iron man, Runar Stone, was below his performances during the past season and as a result scored only 6,557 points, 538 below Jack Parker of Sacramento Junior College, who finished in third place, and 1123 less than Glenn Morris of the Denver A. C., who won the event with a record-breaking score of 7,880 points. Bob Clark of the Olympic Club, Stone's roommate at Milwaukee, was second with a point total of 7,595.

Stone finished first in the field of fifteen contestants in the javelin throw with a toss of 188 feet 3¼ inches. He was third in the pole vault at 11 feet, 11¾ inches, and fifth in the 110-meters high hurdles being timed at 15.8 seconds.

His mark for the remainder of the ten events are as follows: 100-meter dash, 11.4 seconds; shot put, 39 feet, 10 inches; broad jump, 25 feet, 2 inches; high jump, 5 feet, 9¼ inches; 400-meter run, 54 seconds; discus, 118 feet; 1500 meter run, 5:12.3.

Frederic Burk Demonstrations Picture Trends

Beginning Monday, the demonstration classes and exhibit rooms of Frederic Burk were opened to visitors. The classes are open from 9 to 12 daily, and the exhibits may be inspected from 9 to 3:30.

The demonstration classes, which include the first, third, fifth, sixth grades and a one-room rural school, are being conducted by experienced teachers. Modern trends in education are emphasized and illustrated for the benefit of out-of-town teachers.

Pupils of the demonstration school are working on a Mexican unit which will be completed within the next three weeks. Each class will develop a project dealing with Mexican life.

The exhibits which went on display Monday are units of work completed by the elementary grades in Oakland and San Francisco schools. The following schools have contributed work:

Mark Hopkins School, S. F., First Grade—Our Surroundings.
Commodore Sloat, S. F., third—Primitive People.
Mission, S. F., high fifth—Textiles.
Francis, S. F., low sixth—Our Community in Relation to Foreign Products.
Fremont, Oakland, intermediate—Early California.
Frederic Burk, S. F., fourth, fifth and sixth.
Frederic Burk, S. F., second—Mexican Life.
Frederic Burk, S. F., second—Holland.
Frederic Burk, S. F., third—Eskimo Life.
Oakland public schools, intermediate—Art.

Construction work, clay modeling, geometry and art are the main phases of work chosen for displays.

Student-Faculty Tea Wednesday in F. B.

All students and members of the faculty will have an opportunity to meet socially at a student-faculty tea to be given Wednesday afternoon, July 8, in the Frederic Burk Auditorium.

Alice Shepherd, who is chairman of the affair, said yesterday that elaborate preparations are being made to accommodate an unusually large crowd because of the remarkably fine turnout at the faculty teas. Much the same arrangement as was used at the previous affair will be employed again to care for the guests.

Miss Shepherd pointed out that indications favored the event to be one of the outstanding coming attractions of the Summer School season at State.

'Get Acquainted' Tea a Success

In order to provide an opportunity for the visiting members of the faculty to get acquainted with the residents a tea was held last Wednesday afternoon in the Activities Room.

Statements made after the affair by the committee and Dean Ward claim for it the most successful one of its kind in the history of the summer session. Dr. Frank Thomas, president of Fresno State College, made the statement that he was much impressed by the way the students of the school co-operated to make the affair a success.

Entertainment was provided by an instrumental trio.

Virginia Gildea was in charge of the refreshment committee and Bertha Zisser headed the committee of hosts and hostesses. The latter was assisted by Constance James, Mary Snell, Avis Avery, Edythe Passarell, Elsa Magnus, Helene Rowan, Dawn Wilson and Dorothy Deming.

Thirty Mile Tour Attracts Interest

One of the many field trips being organized by members of the Summer Session faculty is the tour of San Francisco historic, geographical and economic landmarks to take place Thursday, July 16. Mrs. Alvina Storm and Dr. Lewis Lesley are organizing the trip and will head it on that date.

In the course of the thirty mile journey Mission Dolores, Rincon Hill, Golden Gate Park and other prominent spots will be visited by the group. Arrangements have also been made to witness the unloading of a banana boat and later to inspect the boat itself. Fort Scott is also to be included on the itinerary.

Buses will leave the college at 3 p. m. and will return about 5 p. m., according to Dr. Lesley. A charge of 50 cents will be made, and as accommodations are limited all who desire to go are requested to make reservations early.

Mexican Trio Gives Class Demonstrations

Growth in the student body has demanded growth in curriculum, and several new courses have been added to care for this need. Among the courses given for the first time this summer "Popular and Folk Conciones Mexicanos" is heading the list in novelties. Miss Spizzy, the instructor, has secured a Mexican trio to play the music in the correct manner, and the students are enjoying the class very much.

Dean Ward Gives Greetings and Thanks

The administration officers of the Summer Session hope that each of you will find a program of activity which will meet your individual needs. We know that by auditing classes and browsing around the training school you will be able to gather many helpful suggestions for your work in the Fall. Do not forget to include participation in some of the activities which our student groups have planned to enable you to know Cosmopolitan San Francisco.

We extend our sincere appreciation to the members of the student registration committee, hostess committee, information committee and the members of the staff of the Golden Gater for the contributions each has made toward the success of the Summer Session.

MARY A. WARD,
Director of Summer Session.

Early Organs Class Subject

According to a late announcement received from the office, Raymond L. White, noted San Francisco organist and pianist, and Summer Session music faculty member, will delve into the history of early American organs as part of his series of lectures and demonstrations on the organ and its literature.

Early American instruments and composers will be the subject of the lectures. Mr. White also has tentatively made arrangements to introduce material on modern developments of the instruments. The series has been scheduled for the Temple Methodist Church (William Taylor Hotel) at McAllister and Leavenworth streets.

Two meetings are slated for the organ loft of the church to allow for inspection and demonstration of the musical and mechanical features of the large four manual Skinner organ. This organ, one of the finest in existence, is noted in the west.

Lectures on July 14 and 15 at 1:20 p. m. and a recital on July 16 at 8:30 p. m. comprise the schedule.

Bay Bridge Cruise Unfolds Huge Projects

Last Saturday morning a group of approximately 75 men and women left Pier 14 in a Crowley launch for an extended tour of the bay which included a visit to both bridges and the future site of the Golden Gate International Exposition of 1939. Mr. Hugh Sutherland of Oakland, who has personally investigated many of the unique features of the bridges, acted as guide.

Many of San Francisco's interesting points, including the Coit Memorial Tower, Fisherman's Wharf, Marina, and Presidio were seen.

Plants Studied On Field Trip

Field trips conducted by Dr. Adele Grant, instructor in biological science, have attracted a large number of students, according to the attendance records.

Plant life was studied on a picnic lunch to Muir Woods last week. The park offers many kinds of shrubs and trees for the students to see. The bird class will soon take a trip to Griffith Park where they will study many types of birds. On July 12 this same class will spend the day at Tennessee Cove, near the Golden Gate. Dr. Grant's classes have made this trip for several years in the past. They hope to see at least 40 different kinds of shore, land and water birds on this trip.

Carmel will be the scene of the excursion for the shore life group on July 18 and 19. A regular week-end party has been arranged. The students will arrange their own transportation but an auto camp has been secured for sleeping headquarters. Meals will be served in a community life style with everyone sharing the work. Various types and kinds of shells and sea life will be studied.

Later in the session a conducted tour will be taken through the Academy of Science in Golden Gate Park. The general student body is invited to the talks, which will be given during the tour. The group learning about mammals will be divided into sections for this day.

The grand climax for Dr. Grant's classes will be a view of the Zoo at Fleishhacker Park. Anyone may attend this excursion with the permission of the instructor.

Enrollment High In Horseback Riding

Horseback Riding, a new addition to Summer Session P. E. activities, has met unusual enthusiasm, according to Daniel Farmer, assistant professor of physical education, who is conducting the classes.

Thirty-four students are enrolled in the two classes which meet each Tuesday and Thursday at the Riverside Riding Club, 24th avenue and Quintara street. The morning class rides from 7 o'clock until 8:30 and the afternoon class from 3:30 until 5 o'clock.

The first lessons are being conducted in the ring. Later there will be rides in the park and on the beach. Plans are being made to end the session with a night ride and wiener roast on the beach. Mrs. Farmer is assisting Mr. Farmer with the riding classes.

Western Books Studied

A new offering in the field of literature is being inaugurated in the course titled, "Cultural Background for the Literature of the West." The class is being conducted by Mr. Frank Fenton, head of the English department of the college during regular session.

Island Boat Trip Planned For July 25

A social event of major proportions which has come to be a traditional affair on the social calendar of the Summer Session will be staged again this year when the boat trip to the Farallones will take place on Saturday morning, July 25. Art Rosen will be general chairman for the event.

A real effort is being made, according to Rosen, to obtain ships which will be comfortable and roomy. Several ship owners have already been interviewed and negotiations are under way for the chartering of the necessary boats.

No definite hour has been set as the departure time but it is believed that an early one will be selected to allow plenty of time for the trip.

Each person going on the trip must make his own provisions for food. However, those who desire to fish will be supplied with sufficient line and tackle equipment. As much time as possible will be allotted to fishing.

Posters will soon appear in the College Hall and space will be provided for sign-ups. The charge will be one dollar or under for the entire trip. Later announcement will be made in this regard, Rosen stated.

In outlining general prospects for the trip Rosen said, "The cruise has a multitude of possibilities and can be one of the most enjoyable affairs of the summer. It gives one an actual taste of the ocean and a chance for some fine deep sea fishing as well."

HOMECOMING

SUCH an event as Alumni Homecoming Day makes us feel that, after all, we do have something to look forward to after graduation. Not to get sickly sentimental about leaving State, but we do feel that to break up the friendships established here is ridiculous when such a fine organization exists.

Elsewhere in this paper, one will find that an alumni dinner will be held previous to the Homecoming. Those of you who have already graduated will find this a splendid opportunity to renew old acquaintances, revive memories and make new friends. Those about to don the cap and gown will appreciate the organization so much more with this preview.

Let's support these events as much as possible to retain the State spirit revived by loyal grads. Attend the dinner, visit the Homecoming in Frederic Burk, revive the past, look forward to the future—July 8 and 9, next week.

EFFICIENCY PLUS

SMOOTHLY and effortlessly as the registration proceeded, it could not have done so without the forethought of the various committees in charge. They, and especially the chairmen of the various groups, are to be complimented on the efficiency shown. The general chairman, as you probably do not know (due to her quiet way of accomplishing things) is Dorothy Deming. She and her assistants are in complete charge of Summer Session affairs and have directed most of the social events which you will enjoy. In behalf of the rest of the students, we extend congratulations.

WE WELCOME YOU

RATHER late with the customary "welcome" which each initial paper prints, the Golden Gater can merely echo the word which you have already found to be sincere.

However, we of the staff feel that not only should the greeting be extended to the students, but also to the many new members of the Summer Session staff. To the newcomers then, with the privilege of our anonymosity, we say "welcome," safe in the knowledge that our resident faculty will do all in its power to establish that feeling.

JOIN THE CROWD

RELAXATION plays a great part in promoting better scholarship. Slacken up a little on the typical speed of Summer Session and enjoy the activities which the school has planned. Already the large attendance at the faculty tea and bridge bay trip have demonstrated that interest has been aroused.

Future activities include the annual Farallones boat trip, teas, and other forms of entertainment. Other students have given time and energy to make your session enjoyable. Thank them by patronizing these features.

BAY LEAF (4/24/29): "All on board heaved a sigh of relief when the launch steamed out of Pier 14 and headed for Paradise Cove." We wonder if that is all they heaved after they got started.

Gater (4/26/33): "Ru Stone led the scoring in the State track team with a total of 79 points."

Gater (5/12/36): "Leaders of the scoring on the State track team were as follows: Ru Stone, 199; Jones, 52 . . ."

Yes, this is the same fellow who was in the Olympic trials.

W. J. J. J. J. Smith, editor of this issue: "I dont' know what I'd do without Dotty-Jean (White)."

Of course this means journalistically . . .

BAY LEAF (10/4/29): "For the first time in the history of the College Theater, a real male, Waldo King, plays the juvenile lead." Gosh, they must have used "Rooty-toots" before this!

Gater (3/8/33): "*I think exclu*sive use of true-false forms of examination . . . results in the failure of the student to grow . . . in organizing his thoughts and expressing them on paper,' says Miss McFadden." Now, if we only had a few more instructors who felt that way, perhaps we would have some intelligent tests!

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Acknowledgments are due to those journalists who were a big factor in putting out this issue of the Golden Gater. The editor wishes to express his gratitude to the following, who came "to bat" when most needed:

Harold Martin
Bob Barry
Harry Marks
Rose Marie Haas
Dorothy-Jean White
Cliff Worth
Thelma Silvia

Also gratitude is extended to the members of the journalism class, who were thorough and prompt in the gathering of material. THE EDITOR.

South dealer. North and south vulnerable.

Psychic bids often can lead to disaster, but when they work, it is balm in Gilead to the fortunate player. This is especially true when hard pressed for points to head off opponents. One example is:

South started the bidding with one Heart. West, realizing that drastic action was necessary, determined to try to bluff South. Without hesitation, West Doubled. North naturally redoubled and East naturally passed. South decided that discretion was best and bid two Diamonds, heedless of his partner's encouraging redouble. West, seeing South was worried, kept up the bluff by putting in a nuisance bid of two Spades. North urged his partner on, bidding two No Trump. East passed again, but South conservatively bid three Diamonds. West passed, North gave another boost by bidding four Diamonds, but to his horror, South, bluffed by the bidding of West, passed. West sighed contentedly and passed, leaving South with a contract of four Diamonds.

The tragic part of the strategy was: South made a grand slam on the hand. The slam could be made either in Diamonds or Hearts, but when West saw his singleton heart he was much more afraid of the heart suit. Without this psychic double, North and South would in all probability have bid at least a small slam in Hearts. West saw his strategy ruin the best hand North and South had held all evening.

In making a psychic double, however, it is wise to have an escape suit to bid in case opponents should redouble and let bidding drop. In this hand, if South had passed the first round and left the bidding at one Heart doubled and redoubled, North and South would have made the contract and game. In that case West would have switched to two Spades, and have taken the chance of going down a few points rather than

CAMPUS CAMERA

By ALICE MARSTEN

If we were to mention all the visitors on our campus this summer, there would be no end to our column, but we do want to extend a warm welcome to all (we've heard that before), and we do mean you (we've heard . . .). In our travels we met GRACE WALZ from Idaho, who often runs (?) over to Yellowstone, just 90 miles from her home. From Salt Lake City, we found MARIAN FLEISCH, ELIZABETH MOORE, MARGARET STREET, and IONE GOSLIND, all four playing hookey from Utah long enough to attend our session.

Two Alpha Phi Gamma luminaries, THELMA SILVIA and HARRY MARKS, the latter being editor of the 1933 Franciscan, are present (and accounted for). Other ex-student body officers include MARIAN DONALDSON, vice-president in 1932, and MARIAN TARDIFF, secretary in '33.

LARRY SEIMERING, former U. S. F. football center star and candidate for the All-American, has decided to try the courses which State is now serving.

Then there was MISS ANNEY OLSON from Lompoc, the flower center of California, who went on the Bay Bridge boat ride Saturday and learned what made the flowers rise.

Music students who seem to be enjoying the session are: BARBARA THOMAS, JOE ROSEN, DOLORES GOETZEE, LEON MINEAR, "BILLIE" ROCKMAN, EDYTHE STONER, CONNIE JAMES, and AVIS "BIRDCAGE" AVERY. Other musically-inclined vistors were DONNA LEE HAGEN and CLAIRE HAMMARBERG. Claire, besides being harmonically minded, is former president of Kappa Delta Tau, State dance club.

REVIEW

Of special interest to teachers is "Chalkdust," current stage play on high school life. Of special interest to your reviewer is the fact that top price is 55 cents, a sell-out at its third week—a lesson to S.F. top prices and comparatively empty houses?

Using an interesting system of "blackouts," the WPA project play and its fine actors maintain a fast pace in exposing the petty politics and scandal possible in a modern school system. Criticism might be made of the weak conclusion, but we understand this is the author's first play. . . . "Chalkdust" has been a New York favorite for some time—this alone is an indication of its worth.
